Subject: Madagascar Checking In

One day and a wake up! Back in my U.S. Marine Corps days that's how we would count down time for big events like boot camp graduation, returning home to our families, or weeks of training. Well, as of now, it's one day and a wake up until I leave for Madagascar for 23 days. I am hoping to get a lot accomplished on this trip in preparation for our move to Madagascar, so please pray for this trip. One exciting thing we will be able to do while there is surveying an area of unreached/unengaged people. Also, If you will please pray for Vala and the boys as they will be staying behind and working on getting our house ready as well as working on Visa preparation. Again, thank you for your prayers and remember we are also praying for you.
